Depending on the consequence, discipline builds. Consequences start from minor to major. This covers everything from phone calls to parents, to sending kids home to suspension and everything in between.

Code of conduct outlines the behavior and what the consequence is and how to discipline. Orvedal does a thorough investigation that includes speaking to all children involved, teachers, witnesses, and the video cameras before implementing any consequences.

Parents are welcome to look at the document. Orvedal is unsure what the district is looking for regarding feedback. SOT may give feedback to Barto and he will forward it to the central office.
